

A Hygge Christmas.

Advertisement Feature

Hygge, (pronounced hue-geh), is a Danish word that is a feeling or mood that comes taking genuine pleasure in making ordinary moments more meaningful. Life's simple pleasures, comfort, togetherness, gratitude, relaxation and warmth are all ours to enjoy at Christmas. Enjoy the Scandinavian touch with these gift ideas, to celebrate your own cosy festive season...

The White Company Winter Signature Candle.

The stylish White Company has done it again, adding to their collection the Winter Signature Candle £20.00. A beautiful orange cinnamon and clove blend sets an aromatic mood creating an intimate and spicy Noel.

Danish Truffles

Chocolatier Peter Beier owns an eco-friendly plantation in the Caribbean, and the top quality chocolate is shipped back to Denmark to be used in the 100% handmade treats like these sumptuous truffles in boxes of four. With ingredients like chili, paprika, brandy and vanilla, these truffles will delight and surprise your guests. dkk 59.00 at www.pbchokolade.dk

Rose Mulled Wine

Marks & Spencer have added a new twist to a seasonal favourite with their new Rose Mulled Wine for £6.00. Spanish tempranillo grapes with cherry, apricot, tangerine and cinnamon flavours are the perfect accompaniment to mince pies and desserts. Already prepared, what could be easier to share with friends and family in front of a roaring log fire.

Cashmere Bed Socks

Personalise your comfort with sensual mohair or cashmere bed socks in a gift box for £15.00. The mohair socks are made from finest Angora in the Karoo region of South Africa. The cashmere socks are sourced in England. Soft, warm and perfect for curling up in front of the fire or in bed. They come in cream, pastel blue or pink, and are available from Not On The High Street.com

